Import Wikispace

Part One: Content Zip Import

Upload your Wikispaces ZIP export file that's in HTML format:

Caution: If any existing pages on this site match the names of pages that are being imported, they will be overwritten.

3.

When import tasks are started, their status will be displayed below:

Task ID	Date Updated	File Name	Status	Run Time	Details
No imports have been run yet.
1	2018 May 16	some-file.zip	SUCCEEDED	1H

Part Two: Import Tags Using API

Enter your Wikispaces information below and click the "Import" button to import tags for the pages that were included in the ZIP Import above. This will overwrite any existing tags on those pages.

Wikispaces Information

Part Three: User Registration

Enter a Wikispaces space name below if you'd like to allow its members to be able to login on this EditMe site with their Wikispaces credentials. Once a space name is entered and the Wikispace Import module remains enabled, users will be able to enter their Wikispaces username, password, and email address on the login page. If EditMe is able to successfully validate the provided credentials in Wikispaces, and they are members of the space specified below, they will automatically get registered and logged into this EditMe site. The username, password, and email will get stored in EditMe, and they will be able to login normally on subsequent visits without the need to authenticate through Wikispaces. Click "Update" while leaving this field blank to disable this feature.
